Good morning Troy, Denis et al. I've made several comments in red font on the document itself. What is generally lacking is the concept of the continuity of effort around escalated proactive enforcement efforts. It is an objective in this pillar of enforcement to maintain and/or escalate from this weekend until such time as all the vehicles are gone and roadways are no longer blocked (all of which constitutes the offence of Mischief). This includes a concerted effort from municipal, provincial and federal partners were required. So more work needs to done and included to flesh out Phase 2..... One thing that is also in the document is the continued work with PLT. We will not being relying on PLT as they are fully engaged and appropriate messaging is going out through them from the Major Incident Command during their various interactions. If the MIC authourizes this particular enforcement plan, PLT will be completely advised of its existence and execution and timelines. And it will not be vetted through them unless I'm order to have that done... that a decision point for MIC.
